What makes Gerrards Cross so special

A great Golf Course

Built in 1922 and set in the grounds of an ancient estate, the course retains many specimen trees, a Lutyens designed cottage and a ha-ha by the 18th green. The course is challenging for all levels of golfer and provides a scenic, tranquil walk. You will never tire of playing Gerrards Cross as you observe the seasonal changes and varied indigenous wildlife. Easy to find, it is conveniently located just off the A413.

Great Golf

There is a full programme of competitive golf in addition to the many roll-ups throughout the week. You can always find a game. Ladies' Day is Tuesday and regular events are held for Junior members, especially in the school holidays. Our Professional and his team give lessons on all aspects of the game including group lessons for children wishing to take up the game.

Great Clubhouse

The clubhouse facilities have been progressively refurbished in recent years. The dining room, which can seat over 100, has a dance floor and grand piano. These features are put to regular use for social events and private functions. There is also a large lounge, a ladies lounge, men's bar and TV and snooker rooms. A quiet corner can always be found for a chat after your game.

Great Company

You can be assured of a friendly welcome at Gerrards Cross Golf Club, both on and off the course. We have an eclectic membership who will make new members feel very much at home in no time at all. A regular and varied social programme is unmatched by any other club in the area. Social membership is also available which enables non-golfers to enjoy the delights of the clubhouse and participate in regular bridge sessions and social events.
